Makeup equipment

To compliment our flocculant range we also supply makedown units to enable our flocculants to be dissolved and supplied to the application point in the best condition possible.

We offer a range of powder units to suite all requirements from manual batch systems to fully automated units.

Manual preparation systems with capacities from 200 litres to 1000 Litres.

Continuous and automatic preparation systems with solution extraction rates upto 12,000 l/hr

To compliment our preparation systems we also supply bespoke dosing skids which can effectively transfer the dissolved flocculant from the preparation unit via secondary dilution to the application point in its optimum condition.

Dosing units are made specifically to customer requirements.
